Use binwalk to determine if there is another file inside the image and check if there is a zip file. Then extract the zip file.

```
(kali@kali)-[~/Desktop]
$ binwalk havealook.jpg -e
```

DECIMAL	HEXADECIMAL	DESCRIPTION
0	0x0	JPEG image data, JFIF standard 1.01
134855	0x20EC7	Zip archive data, at least v2.0 to extract, compress
323796	0x4F0D4	End of Zip archive, footer length: 22
